

Dispatches from the Bunker

Dispatch # 41

For ASL Players Everywhere
From ASL Veterans in New England

In this Latest Issue

Greetings from the Bunker: In this new PDF issue we have four new action-packed scenarios for your ASL enjoyment. Kedge has another article on game play and Carl Nogueira continues his always-popular Tactical Tips. Chuck Tewksbury has a preview of the Tussle in the Tundra Tourney. I'll have the Nor'easter review, previews of the Bunker Bash and Albany Tournaments along with all our usual features.

Probe on the Trail to Hell: The advance down the East-West Trail finds the brave Marines of the 21st Infantry running into opposition by dug-in elements of the Japanese 23rd Infantry Regiment. Can the Marines wrest the trail from them?

Death On the Cismeer Strasse: Above the Arctic Circle at the Russian hamlet of Luostari, special forces of the 6th Separate Guards Demolition Battalion hold the only road through the woods. Will they hold off the German attack?

Vorwald Waltz: The combined arms force of the US 9th Infantry Division kept up the pressure in the Ruhr Pocket, taking the village of Vorwald, which triggered a counterattack by Panzer Lehr. Can the GIs defeat Panzer Lehr's last gasp?

The Kastelli Thirteen: On the island of Crete, the Greek defense of the port town of Kastelli was in the hands of green recruits, British advisors and WWI vintage equipment. Can they somehow defeat the Fallschirmjäger's airborne assault?
